The 1st of March is St David's day – a special day if you have a Welsh background as it is the day that we remember St David who is also the patron saint of Wales. David was born in 500AD. He is considered one of the great saints of the Celtic Church. He founded many monasteries. He is good saint to remember in Lent – he gave up alcohol (for good!) and only drank water. He was even given the nickname David Drinkwater! His last words to his friends gathered around him was that in their Christian walk, "to always remember to do the little things". These little things, such as phoning someone who is sad or lonely etc, are actually very big spiritually! God bless, David (not the St David!) ☺

OT: Genesis 17:1-7 and 15-16

NT: Romans 4:13-25

Gospel: Mark 9:2-9
