This Sunday we will again hear from that fascinating book of Revelation: this time on the New Jerusalem that was mentioned last Sunday— a heavenly city of Light. Something that we can yearn for and look forward to. This is the destination - to live there with God who desires to dwell among us. The road that we travel on to it is the road of faith – a pilgrim's progress. Let's encourage one another on this journey. The journey is a less lonely one on the road of faith when there is a big group of us – so come to church! Hebrews 10:25 "Don't give up meeting together as some are in the habit of doing, but encourage one another." Embers of a fire soon grow cold on their own, but the more that are gathered together, the more they glow! God bless, David
