10am Holy Communion Service

Homily: "WWJD?" Rev David Smithson

Morning Tea: Majella

What is God's will? It's a very important question! When we are faced with conflicts in our lives, how does God want us to respond? God is the one who made us and knows us. What does God want? And how can we know what God wants? How can we seek to be filled with the knowledge of his will in "all the wisdom that his Spirit gives?" (Colossians 1:9). One way is to look at Jesus Christ. Jesus is the Word of God made flesh. He is God in human form. When we ask "What does God want me to do?" then we can look at Jesus to see what God did. This has been popularized by the question "What Would Jesus do?" or "WWJD." But to know what Jesus would do you have to know what he did and what God did in history…

God bless, David
